We have no doubt B. W. Hanna, Esq. is intensely impressed with the belief that we are very jealous of him, and exceedingly "envious" of Mr. Voorbees We should think that he would believe this.

But a few words in relation to the other portion of Mr. Hanna's article. A lew days ago we took occasion to tell Mr. Voor hees that when he said a large number of Republican members of Congress endorsed and recommended "Helper's Impending Crisis," he uttered that which was not true, for those members endorsed and recommended only a compend of that work. Mr. Hanna must have had a bug in his ear which had crawled into the brain and blinded his vision, if he did not see, at the first flash, that this portion of the circular which he himself quotes, has reference only to a COMPENDIUM "of the work in question."
